

Trustee Vacancy

Bank of Scotland Foundation works with local, regional and national charities to tackle disadvantage and social exclusion in communities across Scotland.

Using an annual donation from Lloyds Banking Group, the Foundation funds charities through Grants Programmes and a Matched Giving Programme for Lloyds Banking Group's employees across Scotland. Since 2010, the Foundation has distributed over £12m to over 1,600 charities working in some of Scotland's most deprived communities addressing areas such as homelessness, debt management, reducing isolation and supporting job creation. The Foundation is widely respected for the quality of its grant making and for its commitment to supporting small and medium charities working with disadvantaged people.

We are seeking a Trustee to join our Board and drive forward our work to support positive change across Scotland. Potential candidates could come from a variety of different backgrounds and should have a good knowledge of the issues facing local communities and the voluntary sector. They should be comfortable working at board level and be confident that they can make a valuable contribution to the work of the Foundation.

Trustees play a vital role, overseeing the management of the Foundation and acting as effective ambassadors for the Foundation across every sector of society. Trustees are appointed for an initial three year period and meetings take place quarterly. The commitment required is one day per quarter, plus reading and reviewing papers. Occasional stakeholder engagement activities also require participation from the Trustees, such as the Foundation's Annual Parliamentary Reception. There is no remuneration for this work, however all necessary travel and accommodation expenses will be fully reimbursed.

If you feel you have the experience, the passion and the commitment to be appointed as a Trustee of the Bank of Scotland Foundation please send a CV to:
